

Magellan Healthcare Hosts Free Webinars During Suicide Prevention Awareness Month and Recovery Month in September

August 24, 2022

Webinars will feature stories from people with lived experience of mental health and substance use challenges and suicide attempts, and provide information and resources to help increase awareness about:

- Suicide prevention and the importance of speaking up when individuals need help for themselves or someone else
- Recovery from mental health and substance use conditions, and anything contributing to suicidal thoughts

FRISCO, Texas – August 24, 2022 –Magellan Healthcare Inc., the behavioral and specialty healthcare segment of Magellan Health, Inc., today announced a series of virtual events in support of Suicide Prevention Awareness Month and Recovery Month in September.

“At Magellan, we believe that one suicide is one too many,” said Andrew Sassani, MD, Magellan Healthcare chief medical officer, California, HAI and MHS. “We are pleased to have the opportunity during Suicide Prevention Awareness Month and Recovery Month to shine light on issues surrounding suicide and how people can get help. People can and do recover from mental health and substance use conditions and anything that may be contributing to suicidal thoughts, going on to live happy, vibrant lives.”

Suicide claimed the lives of almost 46,000 people in the United States in 2020.¹ It is the second leading cause of death for children aged 10–14 and adults aged 35–44, and the third leading cause of death for young people aged 15–24.¹

During September, Magellan will host the following virtual events focused on suicide prevention, and recovery from mental health and substance use conditions:

Wednesday, September 14, 2022, 3:00 – 4:00 p.m. ET, Join Magellan Healthcare for the Recovery and Resiliency webinar, “What I would tell my younger self: Conversations about hope, recovery and the ‘S’ word.” The panel discussion led by Dana Foglesong, MSW, NCPS, CRPS, national senior director of recovery and resiliency services for Magellan Healthcare, will include guest presenters: Iden Campbell McCollum, mental health advocate, suicide prevention advisor and Twelve6 Strategies chief investor; Francesca Reicherter, mental health advocate, author and Inspiring My Generation founder and president; and Tonja Myles, mental health and substance use advocate, veteran, certified peer support specialist and board member.
